BARASAT GOVT COLLEGE

UNDER GRADUATE DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE

B.A. Political Science (Hons) CBCS Syllabus

With effect from 2018-19

Programme Specific Outcomes (PSO)

➢ PSO1: The point of knowledge gathering and accumulation on the part of the beneficiaries (students) may be stated. Theoretical and practical knowledge from projects and assignments made by them discloses enough testimony to the mental development in thinking process of the students. This will of course lead them to the path of progressive thinking.

➢ PSO2: The question of identification with the courses and the eagerness in translating those to the examination as well as the practical field is relevant very much. The different papers in the curriculum provide the opportunity to magnify the knowledge for the students who are thus acquainted with multifarious practices on a prolonged basis not made before.

➢ PSO3: This course augments rapidly the task/area of socialisation of the students. From informal to formal, metaphysical to real situation, they experience newer values and fellow feelings, sense of cooperation accommodative spirit and overall a mentality of broadness and active participation in the socio-political structure of the country.

➢ PSO4: The point of awareness on a large basis is an important factor in this respect. The students study state and society, political culture, modernisation public administration along with Indian socio-political thought as well as of the different political systems of the world. They are given lessons in the light of social and political development so that they can link present with the past and look forward for the future.

➢ PSO5: This course further helps the students for their placement in the local, national and global field. By correct application of the theoretical knowledge to practice, they are hereby empowered to establish themselves in different areas of activity. The question of multiple choice widening the horizon of thinking and innovation thus enables them to look into the future development, economic, social and political.

➢ PSO6: In this course, social and political thought is organically linked with interplay of factors involving society, economy and politics. The critical importance of the milieu in which ideas get articulated is emphasized. Given the dialectical interaction between ideas and their context, it provides a persuasive format that is relative to the circumstances. This is an approach that gives space to the search for alternatives within a framework that adequately underlines the organic nature of ideas which are always in constant flux and hence their fluid nature. What is most determining in the entire process is the organic link with a particular reality that always leaves an imprint in the construction of ideas. European nationalist ideas which influenced the Indian nationalists did have limitations in the particular socio-economic context of Africa and Asia due to their alien origin. Thus the European nationalist trail is indigenised substantially by inventing indigenous equivalents and investing these with additional meanings and nuances.

➢ PSO7: The two basic forces or elements of nationalism and democratisation are imparted in the courses esp. Constitutional and comparative political processes. These enable and will be of great assistance for the students who will pursue higher studies in different fields. These will help them in choosing their future professions. So, this course definitely helps as a career builder for the student community.
