Introduction : Department of Bengali, Barasat Government College is always a step ahead in celebrating all types of cultural events inside of the college campus. This year Bengali Department celebrated Bengali new year 1430. Our students and teachers performed brilliantly in the program.

Brief report on the programme:

The celebration, known as the Pohela Boisakh in Bangladesh and West Bengal, India, is the most important cultural event for Bengali-speaking people. The conventional lighting of the lamp by our principal Sir along with HOD marked the beginning of this auspicious occasion, setting a perfect tone for the entire day. Our students and teachers welcome the new year with songs, dances and recitations.
