World Environment Day was celebrated with great enthusiasm and academic vigor on June 5, 2025, by the Department of Geography, Barasat Government College, in collaboration with the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC). The event aimed to foster environmental awareness and encourage sustainable thinking among students and faculty.

The central attraction of the observance was a Special Seminar on the theme: “The Origin of Soils on the Earth’s Surface”. The keynote address was delivered by the distinguished scholar Dr. Sandip Kumar Chaudhuri, formerly Professor and Principal under the West Bengal Senior Education Service and also formerly Deputy Director of Public Instruction (DDPI), Government of West Bengal. Dr. Chaudhuri’s enlightening lecture delved into the intricate processes of soil formation, linking geological evolution with ecological balance and human sustainability. His address provided the audience with a deeper understanding of the critical role soils play in shaping Earth’s ecosystems.

The program officially commenced at 11:00 AM in the Seminar Hall of the Annex Building, setting an atmosphere of academic engagement and environmental reflection. The inauguration began with a symbolic gesture of watering a sapling by the Chief Guest, Dr. Sandip Kumar Chaudhuri, serving as a profound emblem of environmental responsibility and sustainable growth. This act beautifully captured the essence of World Environment Day, emphasizing the importance of nurturing nature through conscious and collective effort.

A special highlight of the inaugural session was the unveiling of the annual departmental magazine, Geosphere, a much-anticipated publication by the Department of Geography. The magazine was formally inaugurated by the Chief Guest in the presence of distinguished dignitaries. Geosphere serves as a platform to showcase the academic contributions, research reflections, creative writing, and environmental perspectives of students and faculty alike. The release of the magazine was met with enthusiasm, symbolizing the department's vibrant intellectual culture and commitment to scholarly expression.

The event was further graced by the presence of Principal Dr. Samar Chattopadhyay, whose continued support strengthens the department's academic initiatives, and IQAC Coordinator Dr. Madhusudan Ghosh, whose collaborative vision enhances institutional quality and innovation. All faculty members of the Geography Department were present, reinforcing the spirit of unity and shared purpose. Their active participation lent academic depth to the occasion and served as a source of inspiration for the students.

This well-orchestrated inaugural session set the tone for a day dedicated to learning, reflection, and environmental consciousness, bridging symbolic action with meaningful academic discourse.

The program commenced at 11:00 AM in the Seminar Hall of the Annex Building. The inauguration was symbolically marked by the watering of a plant by the Chief Guest, signifying a commitment to nurturing the environment. The event was graced by Principal Dr. Samar Chattopadhyay, IQAC Coordinator Dr. Madhusudan Ghosh, and all faculty members of the Geography Department, whose presence added academic depth and encouragement.

The seminar witnessed enthusiastic participation from 140 students, reflecting strong interest in environmental studies. A special cultural performance by students added a vibrant dimension to the event, creatively expressing environmental themes through music, poetry, and dance.

The observance concluded on a thoughtful and inspiring note, successfully blending academic discourse with ecological consciousness.
