Antara Sarkar

UG and PG in Zoology from Barasat Government College
Research Fellow, University of Calcutta
Field of Expertise: Habitat Ecology and Urban Conservation of Birds (Wildlife ecology, Wildlife Conservation, Urban landscape birds)
She is a research fellow at the University of Calcutta, specializing in habitat ecology and the conservation of birds in urban environments. With a strong background in urban ecology, she has been actively involved in researching the impact of urbanization on bird habitats and their diversity. She has published a paper on bird diversity in the urban-rural interface in sacred groves, contributing to a deeper understanding of how cities affect wildlife and how green spaces sustain avian communities.
She discussed on Birds in Urban Landscapes, providing valuable insights from her extensive research experience.

Ankur Banerjee's speech emphasized on

- Investigating the relationship between NRF2 and long non-coding RNA in cancer
- Reactive oxygen species and cancer
- NRF2 Protein Regulation
- Long Non-coding RNA
- SiRNA mediated knockdown of NRF2

Antara Sarkar's speech emphasized on

- Birds of Urban landscape
- Urban avoider, urban adapter and urban exploit birds
- Avian diversity and their resource utilization pattern in urban area
- Conservation approaches in urban landscape
- Emerging research on urban birds

To
Mr. Ankur Banerjee and Ms. Antara Sarkar,

Dear Ankur and Antara,

On behalf of the PG Dept. Of Zoology, we are honoured to invite you to speak at the academic seminar on, 'Recent Trends in Life Sciences' as a part of alumni seminar series initiative.

The event is scheduled for Tuesday, September 24, 2024, 12.30 PM and is to celebrate the college foundation day.

The seminar will be a two hour long program being curated by PG Dept of Zoology, Barasat Govt. College, with an audience of about 75 participants (approx.), made up of undergraduate & postgraduate students, and faculties of our college. Your discussion (~45 minutes) on the said theme will be a great addition to our event.

Thank you in advance for your consideration, and we very much look forward to hearing from you.

Best regards,

SD
